Feedback Obtained

Feedback obtained: For overall development of the students, feedback is essential practice to examine the progressive part of the systems and at the same time to eliminate the redundant system. It is regularly obtained through various sources (stakeholders). Faculty members always strive to shape students with their best of capacity and knowledge. At first, they get information about the progression of the students, later apply for the best possible improvement. They also make different yardsticks for the progression of students. If any student lags behind in the performance, it becomes an obligatory duty for the faculty members to bring a lucrative change to the students. The procedure goes through various sources such as (i) Students (ii) Teachers (iii) Parents (iv) Staff. The questions of feedback relate to academic and knowledge dissemination system. These questions cover almost all important areas right from curricular aspects to teaching, learning, and broader area of contemporary discourse in academia. The faculty members take interest whether particular student is regularly attending the classes or not. If there is a case of dropout, they are interested to know different pros and cons of the student so that they can resolve the problems of the student. If a student is moving ahead with brilliant performance, he/she is appreciated with applause and is awarded for achievement. The teachers also inspire them to go for higher education and professional/administrative settlement. Faculty members also ask question in the classrooms and tell to share the key ideas of the previous lecture. The head of the institution also participates in the interest of the faculty members and encourages them to publish research papers, take minor and major projects and present research papers at national and international level. It is responsibility of faculty members to show their scholarly achievement in publishing their papers in UGC approved Journals, Scopus/Web Science and other international Journals. They are bound to uplift the value of the institute. A critical surveillance is also given to staff of the College so that the administration may stand for student's works, correspondence to University, UGC and State and Secretariat without delay and fail. Suggestions are sought from all stakeholders for further improvement of the College. The feedback obtained through various sources becomes instrumental in analysing loopholes, and redundant approach of the curricular strategies. The informations of feedback through stakeholders assist us to give acceleration in work and also bring necessary change/modification in perspective, work culture, structure of Academic and Physical facility and undergoing plans of the College. It helps us to resolve the problems and process for a successful implementation of the plans and policies and restructure for the development of quality education. Information obtained through feedback helps us in bridging the gap between deliverance and expectation.
